jewel robbery that took place in the big firm fast year. The jewels were in Brosseau's hands when last seen. He made a confession to Inspector Mc-Laughlin after his arrest to-day, in which he acknowledged the defalcation. He denied the theft of the jewels.

Brosseau was arrested by Detective Scrgeant James Dunn, McLaughlin's right bower. His wife, who was present when the detective appeared, collapsed and had to have the services of a physician. It was the first intimation she had I her husband's dishonesty. There are two grown children, but neither of them was at home at the time.
